Trademarks

Microsoft®, Office®, Outlook®, Mail®, Live Mail®, Internet Explorer®, Windows®, SQL-Server®, 2000®, XP®, Vista®, 7®, 8® and the Windows logo are trademarks, or registered trademarks of Microsoft Corporation in the United States and/or other countries.

All other trademarks used on this website like company, brand and product names are trademarks, registered trademarks or trade names of their respective owners.

Javascript

We use JavaScript in a few places on our websites, such as the menu control and our picture galleries. We think that these are features where the additional interactivity is beneficial for our users. Our pages are also usable if you have disabled JavaScript, for example for security reasons. The scripts we use do not pose any security risk, but there have been cases in which malicious websites were able to execute code on target computers using bugs in a browser's scripting system. We therefore advise to set up the following simple security measures on every computer that is connected to the internet:

- Always use the latest versions of your software (browser, PDF viewer, e-mail program, etc.)
- Use a firewall and virus scanner, both of which should be running in the background at all times.
